At the End of the World

Frank Black

He came from the north On a late night comedy show At the end of the world The cameras they rolled to the flow Candy went and blew my mind today It was apparently normal Now he's going to spend some time away I feel so abnormal Candy went and blew my mind today At the end of the world Down in Durango I said pretty please Candy, you can't go The sun came up Less one ray Candy went and blew my mind today It was apparently normal Now he's going to spend some time away I feel so abnormal Candy went and blew my mind today He came from the north On a late night comedy show Near the end of the world The cameras they rolled to the flow
