

I was told that getting old
Was something that you could control
Now I know, that was all just lies

I always thought that getting caught
Was the worst thing that could happen in your life
How wrong was I?
Because the worst that can happen is you die