

Young

Frank Walker

Oh, the day will come
When we wake in the morning sun
Suddenly we're so grown up
And we don't talk so much
Anymore

When you [?]
You'll look back on a night like this
Know that we were wild as hell
And we were something else
Yeah, I'm sure

We'll never be this young in our lives again
We'll never be this dumb and inspired again
So come on and fill a cup and raise it up
We've been waiting up and this is our time, yeah
We'll never be this young in our lives again

We are wasting time
Small town streets, drinking cheap red wine
Rolling in your old t-shirts
Chilling and talking dirt to lose light

When the story ends
No one knows but we got good friends
Yeah we got a lot to learn
I watched the pages turn into life

We'll never be this young in our lives again
We'll never be this dumb and inspired again
So come on and fill a cup and raise it up
We've been waiting up and this is our time, yeah
We'll never be this young in our lives again
