Told

Fred again..

That's what I was told you know
Loyalty first, that's the code you know
I still walk a thin line between music and road
That's what I was told you know
Family first, that's the code you know
I still walk the thin line between music and road
Loyalty first, that's the code you know
I still walk a thin line between music and road
To bring ma back I'd go broke you know
Still walk the thin line between music and road
We're extracting some gold you know
Still walk the thin line between music and road
They think I done juju
All cause a jury couldn't get a majority
Before the judge told me go home you know
That's what I was told you know (One)
That's what I was told you know
(One)
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
They think I done juju
They think that my soul it got sold you know
All cause a nigga can flow you know
Loyalty first that's the code you know
I still walk a thin line between music and road
Walk the thin line between music and road (One)
That's what I was told you know
They think I done juju
They think that my soul it got sold you know
All cause a nigga can flow you know
That's what I was told you
My sisters here and my family I do this all for you know
You know
That's what I was told you know (One)
(One)
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
That's what I was told you know
Family first, that's the code you know
I still walk the thin line between music and road
Loyalty first, that's the code you know
To bring ma back I'd go broke you know
Still walk the thin line between music and road
