

Cloud Sick

Free Throw

Afraid that even if I gave this up right now
To go home, I would find the house all to myself
You're packed up and gone
I call on the phone
And know that you'll answer really helps
You're missing home
Told the place you love farewell

Say something, love
If you feel like you can't stay forever
I'm chasing dreams in the clouds, 'cause
I don't wanna feel like nothing forever
I wanna make you proud

Now I'm headed home
I hate the fact that I left you there for weeks
You're all alone
With no company to keep you from going back
I hate knowing your friends are so far
Keep thinking it makes things too hard
I'm so scared that it makes you shut down
And question everything

Say something, love
If you feel like you can't stay forever
I'm chasing dreams in the clouds, 'cause
I don't wanna feel like nothing forever
I wanna make you proud

You fell asleep, I arrived at sundown
I guess you had been waiting on the couch
A peaceful smile spread across your face
I'd never want to hurt you
I'd never want to hurt you
I kiss your head, and tell you I'm home
You stir a little bit without a sound
Unpack my things, decide to let you rest
I'd never want to hurt you
I'd never want to hurt you

And I never want to hurt you
And I never want to hurt you
And I never want to hurt you
And I never want to hurt you
