

Rinse. Repeat.

Free Throw

Do you remember the time that we gazed upon the stars?
From the front seat of your car, you told me love was not that hard
Now memories of you are fading faster than the brew that I pour down
To try and drown the damage done

And maybe this is all in vain
But I wake up in the morning
And I'll repeat it all the same
It's all the same

Do you remember the time that I got drunk in my backyard
On my birthday and I told you why you thought I'd gone too far?
My beer soaked T-shirt turned to beer-soaked days
And these beer-soaked days have built up tear-soaked me's, it's all the same

I'm stuck in all the same routines
Repeating scenes feel like a dream
I can't decide to laugh or scream
Live like a cog in the machine

I'm stuck in all the same routines
Repeating scenes feel like a dream
After everything you've said to me
You fucked me up beyond belief

I'm stuck in all the same routines
Repeating scenes feel like a dream
I can't decide to laugh or scream
Live like a cog in the machine

I'm stuck in all the same routines
You fucked me up beyond belief
