Another day out in the sun
And you were up all night, but I elected not to run
I rub my face against your hand
Open my mouth to let the words fall out, but I don't think they can
And if they could, what would I say?
I've got nothing to call my own, but I can offer every day
Just let me stay
Please let me stay

Sitting on your porch, comfortably between your legs
Happily drift off to sleep, wake up to rain drops on my head
Standing at your door, everything is soaking wet
I know that I'm on my own, but can you please just take me in?
Take me in
Please take me in
Just take me in
Please take me in

Take me in, don't give me up
Show me that I can be loved
That I have someone, that I'm worth taking care of Make me feel at home
I want to go home

I'm laying on your bed
You are sitting next to me
I rub my face against your hand
And I know I'm
Home
