

Broken Mirror

Freedy Johnston

refrain2:

I wouldn't believe everything you said
Now what do I see
A broken mirror looking at me
Am I now the one who's incomplete

refrain:

Broken mirror
You did not lie
You told me what's wrong
And you told me why
Your pieces are true
Sharp and blind
Nobody looks back
From your unseen side

You wouldn't believe
Everything I said I did not mean
Broken mirror under my feet
Are you now the one reflected in me

refrain

Well, every night, every day
I came to you to see what you'd say
And now look what I've done
It's the hour and the lack of oxygen

refrain2

Alone in the night
