

Emily

Freedy Johnston

Well I wonder who knows
If anyone knows
Where lovers go in their sleep
And what if they meet
Dream the same street
And she passes obliviously

Emily, you're lovely tonight
Look at me baby, it's me
Emily, are you feeling alright
You act like you've heard
And you stop and you turn
But it's like you have never
Seen me

Hey baby, it's me

I wonder who knows
If anyone knows
Why lovers dream of the rain
And what if he finds
It's some other time
Before she had even met him

Emily, where are you going
Talk to me baby, it's me
Emily, tell me what's wrong
No recognition, I must be mistaken
You're sure you have never
Seen me

Emily, come into the light
Look at me baby, it's me
Emily, are you feeling alright
You act kind of cross
And you turn and you
Walk away down the street
Sorry
