

Memory Disappears

Freezepop

They don't look quite the same
They can surprise
You feel the numbers in your blood
You can't recall the sound
The taste, the sights
Distortions come back in a flood
They save it for a while
Memory on file
The machines won't look back
Why should you?
They save it for a year til your memory disappears
All their tapes will corrode
Why should you
Why should you
You can't relive this place

You don't survive by placing ghosts around your mind
They don't have voices now, they don't add up
Do you leave it all behind?
They save it for a while
Memory on trial
The machines won't look back
Why should you?
They save it for a year til your memory disappears
All their tapes will corrode
Why should you
Why should you
Why should you
