

Alright

Frenship

Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, Bury, bury, best years of my life

I was stuck on the west coast
You got lost in the Atlantic Ocean
I sent flowers to your home
But you busy taking off all your clothes

This was the darkest and hardest of times
I wasn't wanted I guess that's alright
How do you love someone then let it slide
Go ahead and bury the best years of my life

What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok
What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok
What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok
What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok

Don't start something that you can't stop
Took me to the edge then just let me drop
Got way too good at placing the blame on me
You made a mess of me

You should move along if I'm no longer your lover
It seems your eyes have drifted to another
Move along I need time to rediscover
I might be all I need

This was the darkest and hardest of times
I wasn't wanted I guess that's alright

What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok
What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok
What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok

You should move along if I'm no longer your lover
Everything turned out ok
Move along I need time to rediscover
Everything turned out ok

What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok What if everything's alright?
Everything turned out ok, ok

Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, Bury, bury, best years of my life

Bury, bury, best years of my life

Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, best years of my life
Bury, bury, Bury, bury, best years of my life