

Run wild 'til it hurts
Who cares if we're gonna make it, oh
I like when it hurts
Just let it bend 'til we break it off

These feelings will expire
No no no, no no no
If we leave 'em alone, leave 'em alone, oh
Can we just fuel this fire?
No no no, no no no
I need the rest to burn

You count for something
And we are far from nothing
And the higher we get, the less I let it go
The fire left you running
Let's ride these nerves
Until we lose another feeling, yeah
Riptide, don't swerve
Come sweep me up and leave the meaning out

These feelings will expire
No no no, no no no
If we leave 'em alone, leave 'em alone, oh
Can we just fuel this fire?
No no no, no no no
I need the rest to burn

You count for something
And we are far from nothing
And the higher we get, the less I let it go
The fire left you running

Look what you've started
We were just loving but now we're haunted
Running, running, running away
Look what you've started
We were just loving but now we're haunted
Running, running, running away

You count for something
And we are far from nothing
And the higher we get, the less I let it go
The fire left you running
You count for something
And we are far from nothing
And the higher we get, the less I let it go
The fire left you running

Look what you've started
We were just loving but now we're haunted
Running, running, running away
Look what you've started
We were just loving but now we're haunted
Running, running, running away
