

Don't Let the Bastards Keep You Down

Frenzal Rhomb

Ever felt you've been at the bottom of the barrel
There isn't any sunlight and there's no room to extend your arms and legs
Have you ever felt like someone's always criticising everything about you
Don't let the bastards keep you down
Don't let them, no don't let the ones that you trusted
Loyalty for granted

When it comes to the crunch and you don't know where to turn they'll try and make you believe them, it's in your best interests
But they're not the ones that burn
Don't let the bastards keep you down
Don't let them, no don't let them
And I can't help falling in love with you
