

Final Dawn

Freternia

Can you really hear the noise out far
See the bodies fall
As the war of the damned has arrived
Would you hold the spear of light
A quest of sight
The tower of strength makes call

The masters are calling my name
They drag me away not wanting to stay

Steal what is left my eyes cannot rest
Facing a wall I cannot climb
I might lose it again
The fire the pain
The voices of war know my name

I feel the fire tears falling down
The dark is getting closer

Hear the voices once again
Calling out his name with pain
The cut runs deep and see him fall
Final dawn

Looking past the fields of grey
A bloodred heart filled with pain
And the words that no one told
In the dark I sold my soul
The merchants of sand
No gold in their hands
Laughing with cold dead eyes

There's a truth that binds me
A storm that slowly hunts me
Drags me away through hatred and pain
The call of the damned
The echo of pain

Hear the voices once again
Calling out his name with pain
The cut runs deep and see him fall
Final dawn

Hear the voices once again
Calling out his name with pain
The cut runs deep and see him fall
Final dawn

Have you ever felt the grip of hate
It can cloud your mind
Destroy all your will to survive
You can lose it again
Good intentions can fail
Leap through the tower of fear

There's a truth that binds me
A storm that slowly hunts me

Drags me away through hatred and pain
The call of the damned
The echo of pain

Hear the voices once again
Calling out his name with pain
The cut runs deep and see him fall
Final dawn
