

In Solitude

Freternia

If you would only know this hell I live
I fear the shadows fear the dark
I dare not close my eyes
Within my hollow heart
I wish for death to set me free
A voice within the silent screams

Insanity my relief
It's under my skin my reality
So many times I wondered Why am I destined to be
As the dark draws nearer
I hide in the depths of my mind
In solitude I cry
In solitude

Still lost in this maze
The crypt of my thoughts
The shadows consuming the light now
I seem to lose it again
The very last of my conscience end your days
The pain I've fled bears your name
Though you're my saviour and bane

Cause starlight I see it from down here
Falling featherless wings fail to fly
As death close my eyes

In solitude

If you could ever feel the pain I breathe
With every breath this pain increase
I dare not breathe at all
Within my hollow heart
I wish for death to set me free
A voice within the silent screams

Insanity my relief
It's under my skin my reality
And the fields of forever embracing the gift
Of my flesh
As the end comes closer
Slowly my bones turn to dust
In solitude I die
In solitude
