

Last Fragments of Sanity

Freternia

I'm the one not
Meant to be the dead leaf on the tree
I wish to fall asleep
Last silent journey on the wind

I cleanse my hands from stains of blood
Once born to live my life in sin
The serpent in the tree your agony

I open up my bleeding heart
For all the world to see
Last fragments of what
Used to be my sanity

Falling silently my time has come
The leaf leaves its tree
Falling a bird without wings
To ride this wind for eternity

O now hear my prayers
Someone save my soul
And let me rest in peace
Alone in this endless darkness
The silence surrounds me
There's nowhere to flee

"Knock knock let me out
I am the beast within
What you will see you won't believe
I am you and you are me"

I cleanse my hands from stains of blood
Once born to live my life in sin
The serpent in the tree your agony

I open up my bleeding heart
For all the world to see
Last fragments of what
Used to be my sanity

How come I still can feel the pain
It flows right through my darkened veins
This blackened heart
Will keep on pounding 'til the end

Enter my domains of sorrow
Hear the mourning of the crows

Afraid to keep my sanity
Avoid to fall too deep
Got to crawl out of this tomb
Before my burial proceeds

I cleanse my hands from stains of blood
Once born to live my life in sin
The serpent in the tree your agony

I open up my bleeding heart
For all the world to see
Last fragments of what
Used to be my sanity

"Voices in head"

Soaring high sailing the sky
Seems so cold embraced by the dark I rise