

A righteous man on fire
A laughter far from sin
A landscape ruled by terror
A heart that lost its will

Reach out for the sky
Valere's horn must sound

The wheel of time keeps turning
A new age face its dawn
The keep of Tear has fallen
The dragon is reborn

Reach out for the sky
Callandor shall shine

Now you know he's near
He's marching through the desert lands
The one that arrives at dawn
Unite the clans to end the war

The dreams are dark and filled with pain
The dark one laughs creating hate
A fear of senseless thoughts
Yet he stands so strong and proud
Rand Al'Thor above the sky
Tormented, broken

To have this mighty power
Will make him go insane
To drag the world in darkness
And light it up again

Reach out for the sky
Valere's horn must sound

Will the darkness fall?
Can he save us all
Until the end of time?

Will he really face insanity?
Will he really find the one that is left to be?
Will he go through a distant dream?
Tar Valon's light the dark has gone away

A vision of a dreamer
They always speak the truth
The ruler in Tar Valon
Broken down in tears

Reach out for the sky
Valere's horn must sound

Now you know he's near
He's marching through the desert lands
The one that arrives at dawn
Unite the clans to end the war
