

Wolves

Freya Ridings

Heaven knows all the ways I've tried to hold you
Heaven knows all the times I pushed you away
And I loved you with every bone in my body
It's keeping me from the soul I wish I could save

And it hits me harder
The sky is a howling thunder
You are still that voice inside my head

When I'm lost, when I'm weak
When I'm down on my knees
When I'm crushed to the core
It's you I look for
When I'm burnt to the ground
And the ash is raining down
And the wolves are at my door
It's you I look for

Woo
Woo
Woo
Wolves

Heaven knows all the hell we gave to each other (Oh) We'd fight till the fire burnt bright in our veins (Fire burnt bright in our veins)
God knows were just as sick as each other (Oh)
And I hope that we'll never change

And it hits me harder
The sky is a howling thunder
You are still that voice inside my head

When I'm lost, when I'm weak
When I'm down on my knees
When I'm crushed to the core
It's you I look for
When I'm burnt to the ground
And the ash is raining down
And the wolves are at my door
It's you I look for

Woo
Woo
Woo
Wolves

When the skies are orange and the ash is raining down
And the wolves are scratching at your windows as they howl
Dark was the way that you loved me, honey
Dark was the way that I loved you, honey
Dark was the day you left me lonely, ooh

When I'm lost, when I'm weak
When I'm down on my knees
When the wolves are at my door
It's you I look for
