

Strangers

Frida

If you ever had the time would you try to make it fine if your promises were real then maybe love is what I'd feel but you seem to be so sad like a fairytale gone bad and I don't know what to say but I can't keep playing games

I can stay now, I can stay now or walk away, or turn away

So I stayed alone tonight hoping things might turn out right wonder if you feel the same maybe I'm as much to blame

I can stay now...

As the candle burns away I want you another day reading letters that you've sent well is it consciences you meant if I stay with you tonight though I know it won't be right if I turn the other way there'll be nothing else to say

I can stay now...
