

Brick

From Ashes to New

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

Staring down into the open
I can't breathe because I'm choking
And now I'm hanging by a moment
Yeah I know that there's no hope for me

I'm standing on the edge it wasn't part of my decision
You pushed me but instead you probably should've fucking listened
But now we just pretend it's not my grave that we've been digging
Just admit it
(Hold my shovel)
Put me in it

And every time I die
I feel like I'm alive
Living a facade
Is this real or have I finally reached the end

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

Build me up until I'm weightless
Cut me down until I'm faithless
Every part of me is breaking
And I hate that there's no saving me

I'm falling to my death because you're scared I'm something different
And I'm the fucking mess while you keep acting like the victim
You locked me in a basement with a fire in the kitchen
Now I'm finished
(Pay attention) Burning bridges

And every time I die
I feel like I'm alive
Living a facade
Is this real or have I finally reached the end

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

And there's nothing left to say
When I'm losing everything
It's a sideways pill to swallow
When it's too late

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

I'm holding onto a ledge
The whole world kicks my fingertips away
(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel my body hit the ground like a brick)

(I feel my body hit the ground like a)
It's too late
(I feel it hit me like a brick)
