

Enemy

From Ashes to New

(You are your own worst enemy)
(You are your own worst enemy)

You say what you want to me
And expect me to just decree
But when I tell you what I believe
You try to hate on my honesty
Cause lies are what you wanna see

How am I to blame?
(You are your own worst enemy)

Hate me for everything I'm saying
It is never changing
(And sometimes the truth hurts)
You hate me because you hate yourself

It's easy to stay the same
You think that everyone else should change
I know it's easy to look away
But when it's blowing up in your face
You point the finger to escape

How am I to blame?
(You are your own worst enemy)

Hate me for everything I'm saying
It is never changing
(And sometimes the truth hurts)
You hate me because you hate yourself

The truth behind the lies will always come to light
You're only gonna hurt yourself in time
You feel as if you need, you need an enemy
If only you could see it's you, not me

(You are your own worst enemy)
You, you are your own worst enemy
(You are your own worst enemy)

Hate me for everything I'm saying
It is never changing
(And sometimes the truth hurts)
You hate me because you hate yourself
It's you not me, you not me
Your own worst enemy
It's you not me
