

Fading Away

From Fall To Spring

I feel myself fading away again
Never gonna make the same mistakes again
I'll rise up and fight till the end

(Help me break these chains)
(Before I'm completely erased)

I can't find my way in the darkness
That lives inside me, tears me apart
I know I have lost my direction
And I just can't seem to get back on track

I will find a way to survive
Because I can take it no more

I feel myself fading away again
But I can't lose my faith
It seems like this is gonna be my end
But darkness won't win over me

I can't deny that my life is on the line
Give me shelter in your loving arms tonight
One last time I'm gonna try to make things right
One last time I'm gonna try to stay alive

I will find a way to survive
Don't wanna take this no more

I feel myself fading away again
But I can't lose my faith
It seems like this is gonna be my end
But darkness won't win over me

I feel myself fading away again
But I can't lose my faith
I'll never make the same mistakes again
I'll rise up and fight till the end

Help me chase away
The shadows all over my face
Yeah, I'll break these chains
Before I'm completely erased
