

PIECES

From Fall To Spring

I'm feeling alone in this crowd
And lately it's getting too loud
This world is a mess
If you ask me, I guess
That it's too late to turn it around

I'm chasing a light that won't stay
They laugh as I'm fading away
The deeper I sink in
The less I can see
There's no way to break out of this cage

They circle like sharks in the sea
They love to watch someone else bleed
Remain in the shadows
They're shooting their arrows
So easy to hide behind screens

They smile while they're fueling the flame
As if they weren't part of the game
They cover their tracks
Turning fiction to facts
If you dare to fight back, you'll be taking the blame

Break me into pieces
And claim you are the cure
Weaponize my weakness
I've heard it all before
So fire away

I'm done with the fear and the shame
Played through the sick internet game
Only hypocrazy
Endlessly searching
For more of this fake dopamine

This trial's a goddamn charade
My head's already under your blade
You want repentance, no matter the sentence
The verdict's already been made

No more regrets
I cannot falsely confess when I'm dead yeah
Just go ahead
Fake your concern, while you mask your obsession

Truth is a crime
Cuts through the lie that they've built in their minds—fine
Paint me the villain
A scapegoat, a fill-inn
I'm only the mirror you seek to destroy

Break me into pieces
And claim you are the cure
Weaponize my weakness
I've heard it all before
You've branded me the enemy

But you can't kill my legacy
Break me into pieces
There's nothing you want more
So fire away
You break me into pieces

I'll just burn every bridge we've crossed
Call it peace when you've clearly lost
Dig your grave in the world you hate
Scream my name just to hear yours fade

I'll just burn every bridge we've crossed
Call it peace when you've clearly lost
Dig your grave in the world you hate
Scream my name just to hear yours fade

Pieces
You claim you are the cure
Weaponize my weakness
I've heard it all before
You've branded me the enemy
But you can't kill my legacy
Break me into pieces
There's nothing you want more
So fire away

Pieces
You break me into pieces
