

You're A Big Girl Now

Frost*

Frost talking yea what's up girl i aint seen you in a while you looking good

Sexy lady
{I know you want me}
{I know you need me}
Sexy lady
{do you really want me, do you really need me}

Can you remember when I told you that you rock my world but you was young and you was daddy's little diamond girl I can't forget the day when you was posted up at school
With your home girls and I was scooping up my crew
You was only seventeen and I felt a fool Cuz seventeen could get a homie twenty-two That couldn't stop me from having fantasy and made me wonder, we could sail the seven seas and I was fiending fo ya, I was dreaming fo ya but then I heard the news you was leaving California On the way to college for an education and I was happy for you, gave you my congratulations Situation under mind, we said good bye
You was the only girl to ever make me cry Yo, if I send a dozen roses they would probably die
From all the tear drops and I can't even lie

Your a good girl now
Your were daddy's little girl {yes I'm ready} Can I hold you {yes I'm ready}
Your a good girl now
You were daddy's little girl {yes I'm ready} Wrap your arms around me {yes I'm ready}

They was telling me you doing good and working hard but as for me steady huslin on the boulevard Sometimes I catch my self In a memory bliss Just thinking about you and the way you blew your kiss
With your big brown eyes and them candy lips They way you did your hair running down your hips but you was raised with them good old fashion ways and never gave a damn if I was getting paid You made your own life and you were doing right Look at all the negativity you had to fight and that's the type of women any man will get on his knees Burning beggin please I loved it when you teased me but I was raised on streets and I'm makin moves Even thought you knew the things I do you disaproved of I hope you doing well, it's kinda hard to tell Every single day you got me checking on my mail yea what's up girl

I heard you was coming home soon
I hope it's true yea we got a lot to talk about and I can't wait to see you call me

You said you ready baby {I'm ready} You said you want me girl {I want you}
You said you need me {I really really need you} I'll make you feel right

Since you been away I'm praying for a better way and I've been searching for it every single day now Hoping for a second chance maybe another dance Used to be a player now I'm fiending for a romance
I must apologize to you in my heart and soul
I gotta say it's been a thrill for me to watch you grow I know you ready fo the, I think I'm ready fo the Let's get together baby and I'm show you
