

Chasing Lights

Frozen Crown

Out in the darkness
Of the coldest winter night
Walking through the ashes
Of a dream I once called life

A lonely reflection of the one I used to be Without a direction there for my eyes to see

It's the same all the times
Keeping on chasing lights
Like a moth I'm giving up

I say farewell to the ones I loved
I don't deserve to stay with you for long
My own hell dwells inside my mind
The shadows of my past I have to fight

Here I am leaving, in search of what I lost
A quest for understanding
What I'm looking for, 'cause now I don't
Here I am leaving, in search of what I lost
A quest for understanding
Cause now I don't
