

Ice Dragon

Frozen Crown

In this safe oblivion I rest away from this light
The weight in my heart
The shades in my mind
Lie out from this shelter of sleep
As the darkest vision that haunted me all this time
Knocks at the door
I'm safe no more
A castaway in the storm

For a long time we've been apart
Now it just feels forever
On the wrong side of this river I lied
Awaiting for your return

As I followed the way
Out from this city of lies
Winter caught me off guard
And I fell into the night

For a long time I've been dead inside
Now I know I'll live forever
For at nighttime I'll be reborn
Surrender to the bliss of frost

In the buried stories untold
Lies my name, once lost in the snow
Empty skies and no stars to mourn
Where is my blood? Where is my soul?
Icy scales cover my thorns
White as my heart that's beating no more
As desire replaces my scorn
Longing for blood, longing for souls
I prowl

Fading in the light I ran away
My eyes too bare to see
My heart too dry to bleed
My hands too soiled with guilt to plead

For all my darkest deeds I'll be remembered
Master of the Eclipse
I'll be back with the tide
When all the oceans rise

Winter will cover the land
Breaking our distant mortality
I will be holding your hand
Leaving beyond this reality

Winter will cover the land
Breaking our distant mortality
I will be holding your hand
Leaving beyond this reality

For a long time I've been dead inside
Now I know I'll live forever
For at nighttime I'll be reborn

Surrender to the bliss of frost

In the buried stories untold
Lies my name, once lost in the snow
Empty skies and no stars to mourn
Where is my blood? Where is my soul?
Icy scales cover my thorns
White as my heart that's beating no more
As desire replaces my scorn
Longing for blood, longing for souls
I prowl
