

Blackened March

Frozen Dawn

The grim cold winds whip the stones
Breaking through the desolate plains
A lightning breaks the starless sky
Freezing all traces of vital essence
As a black crowd...
Howls from the shades

The horde of the damned hails
Conjurers cast spells of death
Bursts of fire and blazing ice
For the blackened march

Crystallized... fire burning eyes
Obsidian scales... and molten steel
Devourer of the worlds,
Destroyer of the souls,
Bringer of nine plagues
For the blackened march

The lord of void arises
Among destroyed sculptures
At the temple of eternal desolation
Conquering the black light
Victorious awakes
From the eternal abyss

The frost claims its dark domains
Of frozen illusions and black dreams
An elder elegy of chilling dreams
Evokes a slow agony of the souls
As the grim creatures.....
Crawl among the gloom

Resplendent....black frozen maws
Membranous wings.....and onyx claws
Devourer of the worlds,
Destroyer of the souls,
For the blackened march
