

Foolish Dreams

Frozen Plasma

Now did you know that I'm a scientist of life?
And did you know that my pathetic mind runs wild?
Oh tell me did you know?

If only you dreamt of me like I dream of you
If only you could feel of what my heart goes through
If only you could see

Foolish dreams to face
Reality's like a gift of grace
No casualty seems hard to find

Until you slip into my world

I crossed the deepest seas to reach the guarded shore
And cherish all of what is worth to be adored
I crossed the deepest seas

It's like a vision of the perfect symmetry
All you need to do is take part in this play
The perfect rendezvous
