

All in One Go

Fruit Bats

He swam in the ocean for the first time today
Or maybe once did as a kid but that was probably just the lake
When your stuck in amber, do you remember anything?
These days it's hard to tell dreams from remembering

But then it all comes to you
All in one go

He walked and it was quiet and it was drizzling
And maybe once he was in love with everyone and everything

And his soul is old
He lives by a code

And when you're far from home
When it's getting cold
It'll all come to you
All in one go
