

Drawn Away

Fruit Bats

My love and I went looking for
The hospital where she was born
But it's not there anymore

Out driving around and searching for
Our ancestral homes
Homes from which at one point we were drawn away
Away
Away

Drawn away from every place we've ever lived
Drawn away from every life we've led
Drawn away from every place we've ever lived
Faraway from every life we've led

My love and I went looking for
Our true north star
Some light to remind us where we are

Some semblance of
A spiritual home
Some little place to be reborn

Drawn away from every place we've ever lived
Drawn away from every life we've led

Drawn away from every place we've ever lived
Drawn away from every life we've led
We've led
