

Rushin' River Valley

Fruit Bats

I felt you coming my way before I knew who you were Like the fog in my thoughts in a beautiful blur
There was a ripple in the air before you walked into the room
Right then I could tell that you'd been good since you came out ta the womb

Could I be your North Star?
Or maybe a river running to your heart?
My love is what the flood can't wash away

One time I heard you cry out in the middle of the night
'Cause you saw yourself in a dream and it was you but not quite
And there was something in the room and it was hovering above
Maybe the ghost who used to haunt the house where you grew up

So let yourself cry
Let the wild river rush from your green eyes
Our love is what the tide can't wash away
Can't wash away

Yeah, I knew that you were there before I knew you were alive
I could tell by the light in the sky before you walked up the d rive
There was something in the air before you walked into the room
Made me know that you been good since you came outta the womb

Let yourself sigh
Because this has been such a long, hard time
Shake off the shiverin'
You're a shark that never stops swimmin'
I'll be that dim North Star
I'm a river running to your heart
I'm a river running to your heart
I'm a river running to your heart
I'm a river running
