Bicycles are passing on this road
Reminds me of the same flower swaying on that day...

I forgotten what you want
A lot of pieces are scattered on this town now

Still you're not here anymore
My feelings and seasons just come and go with the wind

I'm sure that someday it will be reborn and turn around
But still my tangled feelings are unforgettable
With this high thick walls, I overcame nothing
But I can spread more perspective now

Since that day, I look out for different colors
It will bloom and wither

Still you're not here anymore
Let's make a new flower to someone whom we'll meet

I'm sure that someday it will be reborn and turn around
Whenever there's a fight, only one remains
Let's look ahead before it ticks TICK TACK
My heart is more hilarious now

Turn round and round round and turn windy seasons into flowers
Turn round and round My bike is in me and your heart

I'm sure that someday it will be reborn and turn around
But my tangled feelings are still unforgettable
But still, I tried to shrug off with this thick high walls
I'm more stronger now

Just only one remains to fight
I'm sure it will be reborn and lead me to that path
Let's look ahead before it ticks TICK TACK
My heart is more hilarious now
