All of the fluttering feelings and tremblings have disappear
I want to find myself again

We both have different lifestyles
Our love was all about caution
The stacked up scars exhaust us
This love is suffocating us

Fade out
Forget the times I said I love you
Without a trace, hey hey hey hey
From this fake love without any real love
Go without any regrets

Love that I believed would never come again
Has crumbled down in one moment

Our faded lifestyles
Our love was filled with scars
Now I'm tired of adjusting to you
This love is suffocating us

Fade out
Forget the times I said I love you
Without a trace, hey hey hey hey
From this fake love without any real love
Go without any regrets

You don't know how I feel
I wanted you to know but you were so selfish
I don't know what kind of love I want
You don't know how to love

Fade out

Forget the times I said I love you
Without a trace, hey hey hey hey
From this fake love without any real love
Go without any regrets
