Again today, you wash over me
To the point where I can't go back
I'm being washed away with time
Into such an old memory

Like the last time
I felt love
But you only think of my embrace all day
Now it's too hard for me

I hated it, looking at your days
You being there and you not being there
Even now, my anxious life
Has let you go

Regrets are growing
I'm just coloring it in
Oh baby, what's the use
I'm just talking to myself

I'm just thankful
For allowing me to love you
You, who only thought of my embrace all day
Now I miss you so much

I loved it, looking at your days
You being there and you not being there
Even now, my anxious life
Has let you go

I'm trapped in the memories
Oh baby, you were so pretty
But you left and I'm here
Memories get buried with memories

I hated it, looking at your days
You being there and you not being there
Even now, my anxious life
Has let you go
