

Scar

Fuel

Chase the sun in my head
Blistered skin turning red
I can't complain
It's something to do
Cloud my mind and erase you

Since you're gone
All is wrong
Nothing feels the same down here
And if you're gone
And I'm alone
Whose heart will I scar now dear?

Fall in, fall out
Break free, break down

Feel my legs pushing through
This world I built around you
I know the blame
Is not upon you
I know the heartless things I chose

Fall in, fall out
Break free, break down
One look and I die
One kiss, goodbye

Drag this frown from my face
Force a smile to take its place
I can pretend that I'm not confused
And I don't need the likes of you

Fall in, fall out
Break free, break down
One look and I die
One kiss, goodbye
