

The Moment

Full Devil Jacket

I've been waiting on the moment
To save me from myself
But I faded into darkness
Won't you save me from this hell

I'm outside watching the seasons change
For reasons born at the end of the age
No more shaking my bones with fear
My vision's clear and I see what is coming
I see what's coming
I'll be hated for the moment
For the message that I speak
There's a judgement that's coming
For all them strong and weak

I'm outside watching the seasons change
For reasons born at the end of the age
No more shaking my bones with fear
My vision's clear and I see what is coming
I see what's coming

The blood will pour on the threshing floor
Death and famine, pestilence and war
Chaos will reign over all the earth
Nation against nation, the trumpets heard
The end of days the judgement comes
Until the king of kings returns

I'm outside watching the seasons change
For reasons born at the end of the age
No more shaking my bones with fear
My vision's clear and I see what is coming
Outside watching the seasons change
For reasons born at the end of the age
No more shaking my bones with fear
My vision's clear and I see what is coming
I see what's coming

War, fire, hell
I see what's coming
War, fire, hell
I see what's coming
