

The Silence Beyond Life

Fuming Mouth

Beyond the pale Outside their fence
Withdraw before the hour of doom
From midnight, to twilight, to morning
Consumed by quiet

I should have died when I had the chance to leave all off this behind
I thought I died. Fading into the light with the silence beyond life.

My voyage has just begun
I'm relieved of all this uncertainty
I can see clearer and clearer
I'm on my own

I should have died when I had the chance to leave all off this
behind
I thought I died. Fading into the light with the silence beyond life.

Life isn't life until you feel dead on the inside
Ease doesn't come easily. I'll have to do this quietly.
I'm all alone. No one will come and help me out.
I'm on my own but I'm not dead yet so I'll keep trying

I should have died when I had the chance to leave all off this
behind
I thought I died. Fading into the light with the silence beyond life.

Life isn't life until you feel dead on the inside
Ease doesn't come easily. I'll have to do this quietly.
I thought I died, but I'm dead inside