

Elements

Funeral for a Friend

We are forever on the outside looking in and these are observations and gravity is the only weight Thoughts that don't carry enough speed to escape it like specks of dust we're dispersed by our elements We have gathered drawing in from our borders and still we have nothing left to resent in each other We are determines to destroy the beauty in everything and everyone burned to the ground
