

Birth of the Sun

Furor Gallico

As my time approaches near
Winds blow my days away
The water lies so still and clear
A mirror to reflect my deeds
Of yesteryear long gone

Beyond these silent hills
I can't reach my fate yet
Through this clouded glass
I see my pale visage caught in
This existence

Now I know
There's a shadow upon my soul
Though old now I am
Still I cherish all my dreams unsaid

I ran away from darkness
That always veiled my heart
Gone is the curtain of my sorrow
A tearless smile, I wave goodbye
To what I leave behind

Now I know
There were shadows upon my soul
Though old now I am
Still I cherish all my dreams unsaid
Now I know
No more mist is upon my soul
I'll no longer falter
A life seen with eyes wide open

The world awakes in golden rays
Golden rays of light
The fear I've left behind
Now the unknown is my domain

I have known
Every shadow upon my soul
Now they're gone
And old now I am
A new sun shall be born again