

Waterstrings

Furor Gallico

My harp gliding shadows like a ghost ship
Most roads lead home, mine leads me forth

Carried by the sound of the Ocean
My strings will sing with the waves
Waves of hope and tunes of light
Echo through my waterstrings

Away from the world of men
The voice of the unknown is calling for me
I will be lost in the deep blue infinity
Most roads leads home, mine leads me forth

Carried by the sound of the Ocean
My string will sing with the waves
Waves of hope and tunes of light
Echo through my waterstrings

From unknown lands to the west
To the great northern lights
Away and far I have travelled, and seen the starriest skies
But my journey never ends

Carried by the sound of the Ocean
My strings will sing with the waves
Waves of hope and tunes of light
Echo through my waterstrings

As my soul becomes one with the spirits of the sea
I will sing it through my waterstrings
I become one with the primordial flow
My voice will be the sound of the waves

As the rhythm of waves sound through my waterstrings
I become one with the primordial flow.
