Fever

Future Palace

An ice glace forms on my face
I feel it sting, am I unexistent is this real?
A gloomed place, a sad face I see
I'm knocked out by my misery

My reflection shows me that I'm useless
I almost failed to believe in myself but

I got a fever I'm so excited
I'm shining like a diamond
Soon I can say goodbye to this
I flay out of my own old skin
I got a fever I'm so heated up
Jumping up and down too much
All this mess seems to be turned around
It's my time to be reborn

It seems with no doubt
That I am different now
I see the world for what it is
So cold so strongly filled with all this bitterness

I got a fever I'm so excited
I'm shining like a diamond
Soon I can say goodbye to this
I flay out of my own old skin
I got a fever I'm so heated up
Jumping up and down too much
All this mess seems to be turned around
It's my time to be reborn

Fever, fever gets me up
Fever, fever feeling hot
Blood flows through my veins so fast
A time where I can be reborn

My reflection shows me that I'm useless
I almost failed to believe in myself

I got a fever I'm so excited
I'm shining like a diamond
Soon I can say goodbye to this
I flay out of my own old skin
I got a fever I'm so heated up
Jumping up and down too much
All this mess seems to be turned around
It's my time to be reborn
