

Illusionist

Future Palace

You know I
I don't get why
I need to live with all of this

I'll never be one of you
I feel so misplaced I just need my own space
I've seen way too much of your
Hate and disgrace that I've lost all my faith

You will never
You will never
You will never

You will never push me down
You will never see me fall the same
'Cause I have seen; I have seen
All the things you've done

I will never feel so lost
I will never be suppressed - again
By such a weak such a weak
Such a weak man

I know everybody likes
The way how I act that I am
Part of all of this
But darling I'm just an illusionist

But I think that I can't deny
That I wished I was more alike
Someone with your type of consciousness
'Cause I won't miss a thing that I'm living with

You will never
You will never
You will never

You will never push me down
You will never see me fall the same
'Cause I have seen I have seen
All the things you've done

I will never feel so lost
I will never be suppressed - again
By such a weak such a weak
Such a weak man

And I taught myself how to be my protector
Sometimes you need to save yourself
From someone considered a lover
Sometimes life can turn people so bitter
That hurting someone doesn't even matter

And I hope I can save myself (save myself)

You will never push me down
You will never see me fall the same

'Cause I have seen I have seen
All the things you've done

I will never feel so lost
I will never be suppressed -again
By such a weak such a weak man
Such a weak man
