

You set out to climb a mountain and conquer the known world
Bright eyed and bushy tailed on track to self destruct
Oblivious and in a rush

You spend half a lifetime being dragged across a stone
You got your edge you're razor sharp but it cuts you to the bone
You're all alone
Fall off your throne
Try to have some fun
I know sometimes it's easier said than it's done

'Cause everything sounds better when you're feeling good
I don't wanna talk about how I feel from time to time
But everything sounds better when you're feeling good
And I'm feeling good

'Cause everytime I'm drinking sleepwalking right by myself
When I wake back up still wasted and confused
The only way to understand someone is live a lifetime walkin' in their shoes
I'll be livin' a thousand lives walkin' round thinkin' bout you

Yea I think I will. And I'll be havin' fun
I know sometimes it's easier said than it's done

Cause everything sounds better when you're feeling good
I may dive a little deeper than I know I should
But everything feels better when you're feeling good
And I'm feeling good

'Cause everytime I'm dreaming sleepwalking right by myself
And I wake back up with nothing left to lose
Double down on a microdose an epiphany or just deja vu
But without love in the dream it ain't ever gonna come true

Don't you think it will. But try to have some fun
I know sometimes it's easier said than it's done

It's an ego death burnin' to the ground
Don't know what's next, you know I'm down
Take another breath. Slowly breathe it out
Open your heart and close your mouth
I'll find something within I can't live without
And I'm feeling good
All the love that you give, it comes back around
And I'm feeling good
