I was in the fog
Vision was gettin lost
Didn't get what I saw
Had no one I could call
Had no one I could trust
So I doubled down on my flaws
My body started tellin me the way to move
I'm like this can't be true
Holy Spirit is it you
Coincidence in my existence became infinite
If I can't read these signs then I gotta be illiterate
I ain't played a game in a decade
When I put controllers down it switched up all my head space
Wasn't gut feelings I was havin it was messages from God
When my back started hurtin I cut off all the dead weight
Did it on my own for 30 years
It was so dirty here nobody heard me here
Always was searchin here carryin burdens here
Like they don't deserve me here I jus wanna Disapear then I said

Lift me up
Steer me right
When I go left
Would you hold me down like a cheat code

Lift me up
Steer me right
When I go left
Would you hold me down like a cheat code

You don't gotta do it alone he set the tone
Let his thoughts be ya own
Like when u in the zone everything seems to work he got it under control
Even when u get low put ya hands up he gettin you off the floor you gotta know up down left till u do it right
Respawn do it different nothin happens overnight
I lose myself like 8 mile
These breakdowns
Tears flow like damns broke
From havin faith now
Unfinished race I'm Runnin it at my pace now
Tryin to give Grace to people I used to hate wow
Washed clean addictions that left me stained Killed habits that left me drained there's no remains
No alcohol, no cheatin, no lyin had to obstain
I'm still growin everyday I promise this ain't a game so

Lift me up
Steer me right
When I go left
Would you hold me down like a cheat code

Lift me up

When I go left
Would you hold me down like a cheat code
