

Erase Me

Futuristic

Every time I step back, step back
You go and call again
Voice messages, I text back, text back
It should be obvious
'Cause, baby, if I wanted to, I would Think that we should cut this off for good
It's hard to find you a new man
Who loves you better than I can

'Cause it felt so real

I know you're dying inside
You want back into my life
You'll never contain me, but you can't replace me
You can try to scratch me out
But you can't erase me

Ah, you can act like it was all bad
Like I ain't the one to fall back
When you go and tell your stories girl that's ball cap
Yeah it's all cap
When you call me I don't call back, oh no
You mad that you messed up as bad as I did
It's different but I'm moving on in silence
And when I close my eyelids, I'm asleep with peace
Forgive the things that I did
But you like to wake up and choose violence
And I don't get it

'Cause it felt so real

I know you're dying inside
You want back into my life
You'll never contain me, but you can't replace me
You can try to scratch me out
But you can't erase me

I know you're dying inside
You want back into my life
You'll never contain me, but you can't replace me
You can try to scratch me out
But you can't erase me
