Talking about me crazy, lil' homie, you don't know me
I been getting this paper every year since I was 14
Got a lil' drink up in my cup, it ain't a 40
She tell me when to go like E-40
I don't do the back and forth talking, I got better things
I ain't tripping off these women, gave my girl the wedding ring
We liable to dip and go do anything
110 in the lil' Benz on the interstate
Baby pick a lane, they throw shade, blow your whistle
Throw your motherfucking flag
We ain't talking 'bout nobody behind their back
Wanna catch the fade? Blow your whistle
Throw your motherfucking flag
Ain't nobody got no time for none of that
All my homies' strapped, hope they never use it
Think before you act, please don't make my brother do it
I been try'na talk sense to 'em all any given day
Blow the whistle, it's a motherfucking flag on the play

First thing's first, y'all dealing with a captain
Living in a gym with limited interactions
Stuck to the grind 'til the team got traction
And five years later, we the number one draft pick
They think I'm new to the game
Got 'em all blue in the face
Run straight through it while they try to maneuver the pain
Swear this a beautiful thing how I be moving the chains
Proolly why they hating 'cause they know they can't do it the same
Lord, have mercy, y'all have been so thirsty

Wanted what I have, but none of you hoes' worthy
Might have talent but you won't outwork me
The hall of fame hustle, got a blood-stained jersey
Baby where the trouble at?
I been in the field like a running-back
I don't need a stimulus check to get a couple racks
I got the money from the merch in the duffel bag
I put it back in the business and I'ma double that
