

Get It Together

Futuristic

Get your shit together

Yeah, drinkin' years off of my life just to enjoy the moment
Across the world from all the people that I hold the closest
I closed some doors from back at home that always had me open
It's kinda funny, before the fame they thought I was joking
Yeah, and now we make a toast to breaking bread
I stayed ahead of them rappers that rather stay in bed
I gave some knowledge to a girl who only gave me head
She spread her legs, but I told her that we should wait instead
And she a hipster, I got piece of mind
Gave her that tip only 'cause she a dime, yeah
I had a drink to speed the time, did it again-like a rewind
She did some coke, then got a text, she told me
"Read between the lines"
Yes, I told her that I'm fine like wine
Always submerged in my rhymes, I call it my lifelines
Only 25, did more than most in a lifetime
Right now is always the right time
I tried to tell 'em, get your shit together

Get your shit together

I don't wanna hear you complain if you ain't tryna make a change
I been sayin' get your shit together
You too stuck in your wage, you could go do anything
Boy, quit playing, get your shit together
Don't bring shame to the name your momma gave you
I'm sayin', homie, you should get your shit together
Yeah, get your shit together

Yo, tellin' a story of another nigga
My life is different, but I used to have to struggle with ya
I'm talkin' back when not a single soul was fuckin' with ya
I had your back, in fact, I put all of my trust into ya
I seen the pain, from every loss make you the victim in situations you facin'
' lately
Daily occasions you placed in your operations, strangely
You still a kid, but you and your chick went and made a baby
How you gonna raise him without a job? Man, that shit is crazy
Truly amazed how the thought process is flawed
We goin' in raw, not even thinkin' what it'll cause
And you still a dog
Nigga, you still be fuckin' these hoes
You still be up in the club, head rockin' your brother's clothes
Man, I thought you was the big homie (big homie)
Remember all the shit you used to show me? (used to show me)
I looked up to you since I was a shorty, but now we grown
It's kinda sad that you can't do it on your own, you need to know
Just get your shit together

Get your shit together

I don't wanna hear you complain if you ain't tryna make a change
I been sayin' get your shit together
You too stuck in your wage, you could go do anything
Boy, quit playing, get your shit together
Don't bring shame to the name your momma gave you
I'm sayin', homie, you should get your shit together

Get your shit together
Get your shit together
I don't wanna hear you complain if you ain't tryna make a change
I been sayin' get your shit together
You too stuck in your wage, you could go do anything
Boy, quit playing, get your shit together
Don't bring shame to the name your momma gave you
I'm sayin', homie, you should get your shit together
Get your shit together
