

It Takes 2

Futuristic

You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
It takes two to make the things go right
It takes two to make the things go false
It takes two to make the things go right
It takes two to make the things go wrong

Yeah

You act like you an angle, maybe at one time you was
You say that I'm the devil, sometimes I be hard to trust but You been out here doing the same thing, that's blame for both of us but We just way too conected I tryna leave you but I'm stuck
When I'm at somewhere else I wanna be with you
Bad girls yeah I seen a few
Super models that been in my section if you cross the room I wanna leave with h you
We came this far when I see it through
But it gets too hard when you break the rules
And you started fights and you doing things
Got the neighbors calling and it's breaking news
Stay with you through that bullshit, yeah yeah yeah
Helped you out with that old shit, yeah yeah
You got issues and I got [?]
I fucked it up and then you had to turn
And I call you up then I'm coming down
And you coming through I got chase the burn
Because

You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
It takes two to make the things go right
It takes two to make the things go false
It takes two to make the things go right
It takes two to make the things go wrong

This games for two, I play the fool
If you blaming me, then I'm blaming you
For the sleepless nights always picking fights
Why are you sit on my mind
You hate me we make up and make love again
Swear that this crazy circle never ends
Sometimes I wish we could go back to friends
How did we end up like strangers again
At the end of the day you hurt me so I hurt you
At the end of the day there's nothing we can work through
And I ain't saying that I'm innocent
I put you threw all this shit, what I said I never meant

You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
You act like you ain't do nothing wrong
Yeah, you say that you say it's all my fault
It takes two to make the things go right

It takes two to make the things go false
It takes two to make the things go right
It takes two to make the things go wrong
