

Sheesh, you know
(D.a. got that dope)
Ay, sheesh, sheesh

Back-to-back suburbans
We moving presidentially
This Rollie is a prezi and I want shit evidently
This new shit could be deadly
All the jealousy and envy
When you winning and you up
The hatred comes around eventually
If you ain't in my circle
Can't call me, you can't text me, you can't get to my directly
You gon' have to go through Jesse
And most of y'all are fake
So it's no wonder I'm not friendly
This generations' Johnny Cash I'm hip-hop's Elvis Presley

So you could say I'm different, you could say I switched
You could say I changed, but I ain't never been no
Since 11th grade, that's where my number never switched
So you could say I changed, but I ain't never been no
I ain't never been no bitch

I evolved, I outgrew you, this is growth
Cutting toxic people off, it helps us both
Leveled up, I had to switch up my approach
This the truth my right hand's up, I take a oath

They say life is short, but what the fuck do I know?
Said you only live once and that's the motto
Look at me, I'm looking like I won the lotto
They say life is short, but what the fuck do I know?
What the fuck do I know?

What the fuck do I know?
