I saw you walking Grand and Myrtle You had your sun burn on and your summer dress wrapped around you Like Bambi's mom out in the meadow About to meddle and lay my black cross right upon you I lay it down down like it's my decree though we both know that it's you over me
and we roll out skinny
skipping intro
you know what i know
About to lay down low with you
I make my entry through your shadow
Your tail will rattle
The birds will scatter and leave me with you I know you must be someone's daughter Not about to bother coz you don't know that you're waiting for me
No there's nothing's wrong with me Just want you right here breathing next to me
And we roll out skinny
skipping intro
You know what I know
About to lay down low with you
Give you my disease Collar bone, hot neck open mouth and sweet teeth is calling me We're moving like it isn't funny Outside it's sunny inside we're making a storm out of you I'll leave the knife right in the honey This isn't money but we're just richer than anybody else than everybody else who's trying to break into love and just steal it all Roll out skinny
skipping intro
You'll know what I know
About to lay down low with you
